Avenue Six Studios Continues To Be One Of Los Angeles' "Go-To" Production Facilities

Van Nuys, CA, February 14, 2012 | SHOOT Publicity Wire | --- Van Nuys, California based Avenue Six Studios was selected by Marina Del Rey, California based Davie Brown Entertainment for their MSN, Hillshire Farms Kitchen Cook-Off series shoot.

Directed by Kurt Spenser, Davie Brown utilized Avenue Six Studios' popular fully-functioning kitchen set for their production as Chef Jill Houk and Host Jelynn Rodriguez "sift" through several contestants to find the burgeoning chef with the most unique culinary skills.

About Kitchen Cook-Off... "Who loves a good ol' fashioned cooking competition? Delish and MSN's Kitchen Cookoff is officially up and running, and so are a handful of the much-anticipated cooking competitions! Hosted by Jelynn Rodriguez and chef Jill Houk and sponsored by Hillshire Farm, the competitions pit everyday women against each other to showcase their favorite family recipe — and may the best dish win."

Shot at Avenue Six Studios, the production facility has recently completed construction on a permanent New York City style main street set. The addition of the outdoor setting allows for even more flexibility for any shoot. Complete with sidewalks, dog friendly curbs, foliage, functioning doorways, stairways, "stoops," interior/exterior lighting, and extensive true-to-scale, two and a half story facades, the new Avenue Six Main Street location is the perfect location for any movie, film or video production manager in search of an authentic city-scape or urban look.

This, in addition to the almost 15,000 square feet of shooting space, Avenue Six Studios continues to be a sought after facility for film, television, and commercial productions as well as photography.

The multi-million dollar facility now includes four distinct shooting spaces equipped for all types of productions. The North Stage is the newly completed soundstage and features a 28' x 18' green screen cyclorama, a 12' wide x 10' high bay door for easy access for loading and unloading, a 17.5 foot grid height for lighting as well as a private production office, lounge area, makeup and dressing room and green room/talent holding room.

The South Stage consists of an entrance lobby/reception area, office sets, and a break-room style kitchen area. But by far, the most unique aspect of the South Stage is the conference room set which features three glass panel walls and fully-working projection screen and sound system.

The East Stage is almost 6,500 square feet of shooting space and features light laminate flooring, a 33.5' x 18' cove, and fully-functional gourmet kitchen. The East Stage also has a 12' x 12' bay door, an overhead lighting grid height of 16 feet, its own production offices and a spacious dressing room with two stylist stations.

Avenue Six Studios is a state-of-the-art facility with a climate controlled environment, WIFI internet, video conferencing capabilities and Sirius/XM satellite radio with iPod connections throughout. Clients have access to the variety of standing sets, multiple wall flats that are easily moved from stage to stage as well as the in-house selection of translights and props. Avenue Six Studios boasts an enormous gated and secure parking lot that is capable of providing enough room for the largest crew and production vehicle parking.
